

Filmography VEGA Film 2023

Ruth Waldburger is the owner of the production company Vega Film AG and the distribution company Vega Distribution AG. Vega Film (founded in 1988) is one of the most renowned film production companies in Switzerland, having produced over 100 films, many of which were awarded important prizes. Some of them are international coproductions, like «Johnny Suede», starring Brad Pitt and directed by Tom DiCillo, which won the Golden Leopard at the Locarno Film Festival in 1991 and «On connaît la chanson» by Alain Resnais (Silver Bear at the Berlinale in 1998) or «Notre musique» by Jean-Luc Godard (Grand Prix FIPRESCI at the San Sebastian Film Festival in 2004). Throughout the years, Ruth Waldburger has produced no less than 11 films by Jean-Luc Godard.

Furthermore, Vega has produced numerous Swiss films, among which «La petite chambre», representing Switzerland at the Oscars in 2010 and awarded the Quartz for Best fiction film (Swiss Film Award). In 2011, «The Turin Horse» by Béla Tarr was awarded the Jury Grand Prix – Silver Bear in Berlin, and more recently «L'enfant d'en haut» («Sister») by Ursula Meier won the Special Award – Silver Bear. In 2018, Germinal Roaux' „Fortuna“ won the Crystal Bear for Best Film as well as the International Jury prize for Best Film at the 68th Berlinale Generation 14plus competition. Two years later, «Schwesterlein» by Véronique Reymond et Stéphanie Chuat premiered at Berlin Film Festival. Moreover, it won five Swiss Film Awards and was Switzerland's official submission for the Academy Awards.

In 2003, the Locarno Film Festival awarded Ruth Waldburger with the Raimondo Rezzonico Life Achievement Award for the entirety of her production activities. In 2014, Vega Production was founded in order to strengthen the position of Vega in the French-speaking part of Switzerland. In 2015, she received the Bremen Film Award for her contribution to the independent European film industry.
